SUMMER THRILL

The summer just got hotter! This issue of CRASH is bursting with the latest and greatest stuff around on the Speccy scene, we've got all the games we could lay our hands on and the third action packed Power Tape! Unfortunately, being summer, the software world has caught 'summer-slumpitis', the deadly illness which results in hardly any games coming out. Only seven — seven!! — games up for review, hopefully the situation should improve next month. But apart from the games there's the Magnum Light Gun which should tickle your fancy and a host of extras, including the chance to win an exclusive Indiana Jones jacket, In this summer bonanza edition of the magazine that brings the action right into your own home!!

kinda softy. But do you go all squidgy round the edges at the sight of small, cute furry creatures? Good! You'll just love Metabolis! And even if you aren't much of a softy you'll iove Metabolis anyway - it's a cartographer's delight! (Well, there are 150 screens which need serious mapping. Sounds more like a nightmare...).

he story has it that the invading Kremins have transformed the human race into a variety of little creatures. And true enough, this here story is fact: You've actually been turned into a man-brained bird by these evil aliens ( - better than a birdbrained man...). Now it's your duty (Duty? You're furious!) to destroy these evil beings. You're obviously not going to get far as a twee bird, so you must find the potion which

The destruction of these despicable beings can only be brought on by a nuclear explosion — so find nuclear fuel pods, take them to the reactor room and run/fly like hell. Doesn't sound very Green to us!

The game area consists of a highly complex maze, about 150 screens large. As you fly around the maze you meet a variety of different creatures most of whom are pretty harmless. Some, like the starfish will kill on contact. If you have an encounter with a Krémin your energy will be sapped, so it's best to stay out of reach: that calls for some agility. Beware of the many traps, like the one-ton weight which will flatten, but not kill you. Your heart is a constant source of trouble, and you will die unless you can keep yourself topped up with angina pills. As your energy is sapped by the evil invaders a picture of a little bird gradually turns into a skeleton as you weaken. To reverse the trend you must find food and grow fat again. A little red heart will begin to flash when the strain is becoming too much (aw!) - hurry and find some more pills before it's too late! Who said this was fun? Look on it as a challenge and don't despair, it's not all bad news, you do have a weapon — a boomerang — if you can find it!

Dear oh dear oh dear! Some 'other' magazines just can't stand the pace can they?
They've brought you adventure games on their covers, but their offerings were damp squibs (ie. a firework which has been piddled on). Now CRASH, knowing our readers are well tooled-up in the brain department, thought long and hard on how to bring you the pinnacle of adventuring. And we've come up with a winner! Incentive's all-time great Ket Trilogy!! ger. Many of the obstacles demand adventure-like solutions, so it's thinking positron-protectivedome time again. As your robot moves from screen to screen it comes across some weird and wonderful shapes dashing all over the set. These little chaps are harmless (update: mostly harmless), they can be destroyed with laser fire, but collision with them, or indeed with any other object, will damage your psyche level (dictionary: for Psyche read Energy). You can recharge the energy level by plugging into psychers. Keep a look out for objects that will help with the various problems, some you will be able to pick up and carry, bombs, fuel pods and the like. Larger objects may

ALL-ACTION

ADVENTURE

THE KET TRILOGY

PART ONE

KET HISTORY
The lands of Ket have long been split into feuding groups and have never known peace. Recently, vicious attacks have come from beyond the range of mountains in the east — the Mountains of Ket. Worried about the state of the land, the Lords of Ket have joined together in an attempt to put a stop to these attacks.

Two people are the evil force to these attacks.

Two people are the evil force behind the raids: Priest/King Vran Verusbel, leader of the cult of the Mad Monks, and their high priestess Delphia, the most beautiful woman in existence. It is thought by the lords that the death of both Vran and Delphia would cause the raids to stop. A courageous volunteer is needed...

OU, THE ADVENTURER

Framed with a murder, you have Framed with a murder, you have been sentenced to a grisly death and are languishing in jail. It's the eve of the execution, when you are suddenly bundled off to face the Lords of Ket! You guessed! They give you a do or die choice — and you choose to do! Destroying Vran and Delphia is your ultimate task, and not an easy one, you are warned: both are cunning and devious... devious...

have entered the Mountains in the past, never to be seen again.

Not doubting your loyalty for one moment, but to make absolutely sure you really do stick to your mission, a magic assassin bug called Edgar is placed on your neck. His orders are to sink his poisonous fangs into you at the slightest sign of you doing a bunk.

PLAYING

AN ADVENTURE
When entering commands, use the verb/noun combination. You the verb/noun combination. You will be told if your command is not understood, or you try doing something impossible. Here are a few sample commands... Get Sword, Drop Sword, Go North, Say Hello, Count Coins, Say Hello... You have additional special commands: Inventory - lists the objects you have, Stat - shows your status and condition, Score - how well you are doing, Beep - turns off the Speccy keyboard beep, Help - could be useful, Look - redescribes current surroundings; Save/Load, current surroundings; Save/Load, and Quit.

Most commands can be short-ened: North N, South S, Up U, Down D, etc.

HINTS 'N' TIPS

Edgar says 'Don't just kill everything!

Once inside the mountains, leave valuables in a safe place for a massive score.

It is useful to draw a map!

You may find magical items. These may be worn, help you in combat, assist in solving problems or be of no use at all.

THE VILLAGE OF KET

Wanting to see you safely on your way, we've given you this wonderfully drawn (ta Mel) map of the village of Ket. The paths show the route to the entrance to the mountains, where the adventure begins proper. But you're going to have to complete several tasks before the quests which face you in the mountains...

This map will help, but you still need to chart the village for yourself to get you started.

t's 2050 (What? Like, ten to nine? -Ed). Get out! No, the year is 2050 AD. Earth's governments have been toppled and the only ruling power is a huge central computer.

This would be fine and dandy if it wasn't for the fact that, due to a bit of ram-wobble (A Historian writes: Ram-wobble - first discovered in ZX81s, wobbling of the rampack makes the computer crash), the central computer has gone completely barmy! The planet is plunged into chaos!

MISSILE; GROUND

T his is a basic version of the old Missile Command type game. Things fall out of the sky, and you have to shoot them before they land on your cities, blowing them up in the process. This game could have been really good, but it's ruined by the fact that it's impossible to shoot accurately. The gun has a 'scatter' effect, which basically means it fires anywhere except where it's being aimed at! Graphically okay, but generally disappointing, really. Overall

Missile: Ground Zero

OPERATION

The arcade machine was great, the Spectrum conversion was pretty good, but I'm afraid it just doesn't work with the light gun at all. This version of the Ocean game replaces the joystick control with the light gun, so, theoretically, it should be even more like the arcade, but unfortunately, the flashing screen ruins it. The gun calibration sequence, peculiar to this game, also doesn't appear to work very well: the firing remains a bit inaccurate, no matter how careful you are. Still, it's a variation on a very good theme, so it isn't that bad. Overall

Solar Invasion

SOLAR INVASION

The solar system is under attack from a swarm of alien invaders, and you have to use your light gun to fight them off! This is probably the most challenging game on the tape, because you have to shoot the alien mothers (no, no, I didn't mean it like that; the big aliens which produce more little ones!) millions of times to kill them, and the little aliens are so small, you have to be really accurate with the shooting. Nonetheless it's quite playable and averagely addictive. Overall

The light gun is a good idea. But without good games to go with it, it'll remain a gimmick to be dumped in the cellar. Either enough people splash out the thirty pounds for it to encourage software houses to produce decent entertainment suited to it, or Sinclair must invest in producing better games for it themselves.

At the moment, Rookie is the only one which makes the grade, the rest are worth trying, but otherwise the Sinclair Magnum isn't all that magnum.

Views • News • Jetman • Forum • Winners • Here's Lloyd 'bard' Mangram

It's festival time here in sunny Ludiow, and there's classical culture at the castle with this year's Shakespeare performance which, naturally, I attend. Meanwhile the rest of the CRASH editorial rabble visit the fringe down at the local watering hole The Pig And Balibearings. Indeed, Mike Dunn and Richard Eddy actually appeared in this year's duo of smutty plays. Mike (playing two characters) in Mind Your Backs, a spoof of Julius Caesar and Richard, running around on stage in a rather disgusting dress, in the suitably named Dirty Beasts! But here, it's on with my show in Live Circuit!

DORKS

Dear Lloyd, Ignore the dorks that reckon CRASH has got worse. Although I've only bought a few over the years, in my opinion, issues 65 and 66 were much better than the others. The games were amazing — my favorite was Micronaut One. Half of the stuff in the 'old' CRASH I didn't read, it was so boring! If CRASH carries on how it is, I'll get it every month.

Dave Litchfield, Peterborough.

Ah, the converted!

LOADS A LARFS

Dear Lloyd, I thought you might be interested in a couple of my home-grown limericks: There was an old nut from Dundee, Who went out and bought and ST, When he played on his games, He burst into flames, I think he should've bought a plus 3!! OR... There was a young girl from Margate, Who went fishing with large pieces of bait, When she caught very little, She came home in a fiddle, And played on her Speccy 128!!! Robin Haynes, Chorleywood, Bucks.

There once was a chap, name of Robin, Who had a nice donkey named Dobbin, But Dobbin did die, So Robin befriended a fly, Which is a bit of a stupid idea when you come to think about it. LM

CRASHBACK

Dear Lloyd,
Monday, a warm sunny day at the train station with nothing to do I walk into the newsagents and look at the shelves. What's this?
CRASH with four free games and a level of a space game (That's Sanxion —LM). This was how I got back into computer games. I dusted down the old Speccy, rewired the tape recorder and thumped life into the TV. After playing the games twenty times over I looked in my drawer for any other good games to play. I came across Fred. I really enjoyed this game, the graphics were fun, the sound was neat, and as for addictivness — I just can't stop playing it!! So, I was wondering if you had the old ratings for it, was it a CRASH Smash?! Keep up the good work and THANKS!!

Stephen Goodwin, Holborn, London.

Welcome back to the Speccy fold, Stephen — keep getting CRASH and your software collection will grow and grow. As for Fred, originally published by Quicksilva, it was reviewed in issue three and the ratings were: Use Of Computer 85%, Graphics 90%, Playability 87%, Getting Started 88%, Addictive Qualities 70%, Value For Money 80% and Overall 83%.

BIG GIRL'S BLOUSE

Dear Lloyd, As winners of the Powerplay Design a Joystick competition we went to the factory and then to Alton Towers. What a fantastic day out it was! The people at Powerplay could not have been nicer, and it was most interesting to be able to make our own joysticks. Alton Towers was great, but we must tell you that CRASHman Mark Caswell bottled out of going on the Corkscrew. He kept mentioning something about G force and that he was only there as an observer. So no matter what he says, you know the truth. Thanks to all at CRASH for making our trip

Peter and Nicholas Young, Delph Saddleworth, Lancs.

I think Mark is a sensible fellow. You wouldn't catch me defying Corkscrew G-forces. LM t's those little things that make all the difference.

I have never met Pamella Bordes, and if I have it has always been in the company of plastic surgeons, close friends or Sun reporters. Norman Payne, Southampton Naughty Norman in Southampton Sun shocker with stunning Pam! Phroooowar! Ahem.

What's wrong with your pound sign in the classifieds?
Colin MacDonald, Dundee

Nothing! See: #%, er, %1, um, *, sh..., #. HELP!

Why does S****** U**r always slag you off in their magazine? They don't have much to be proud about!!!

Martin Humpries, Reading

Now, I'm not the bitching sort but... (SNIP! Removed for libellous reasons —Ed) LM

My mother is a tortoise freak, are there any tortoise games out on the market for the Speccy? Robin Haynes, Bucks.

Rumours have it that MouldCasters are due to release Advanced Tortoise Simulator later this year.

THE GIRLIE MGT DISK DRIVE

JASON DONOVAN!!

Music making programs on the Spectrum have never been fantastic. From the simulated three channel sound of programs like Wham: The Music Box to home made tunes using the BEEP command. Well, now here's a new piece of music making software for all you budding Jason Donovans to create masterpieces on, and it's called Music Maestro.

The program offers advanced editing facilities, with notes being heard as they are entered, and the different lengths of notes being selected at the touch of a button. You also get tunes as demonstrations, and there is a sound-to-light option to give you your own light show! The cost of this amazing software break through? Only £9.95 on cassette and £12.95 on +3 disk. Unfortunately it is only available by mail order. Well what are you waiting for? You could soon be on Top Of The Pops!

Music Maestro from Torchraven Ltd, King House, 60/64 Matthias Road, London N16 8QD. Tel: 01-923 1744.

PASSING SHOT:

It's the tennis sensation that's sweeping the nation! Image Works have just signed a deal to convert Sega's arcade tennis game Passing Shot onto the Speccy. The conversion is being done by Teque, who converted Blasteroids rather well.

Say Image Works: 'Passing Shot successfully conveys the impression of playing Grand Slam season with doubles or singles championships taking place across the globe covering both clay and grass courts. And we promise not make a total hash of it.' Good for them. Passing Shot will be published in September (£8.99 cass, £12.99 disk). Rackets at the ready!

NOW FOR SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT...

'...Excuse me miss?'
'Waddya mean, miss?!'

'Err, sorry, I had a cold. Ay bought this 'ere computer gemme not twenty minutes ago from this very boutique...'

"...Yeah?"

'Well, it's dead.'

'Dead?'

'Dead. Demaysed. It's passed on.'

'Naaa, it's pining. For the fjords.'

'Paynin' for the fjords? What kaynd of talk is that?'

Pretty strange talk if you ask us. Mind you, Virgin Games' latest licence is rather out of the ordinary, too. Monty Python, that six—man (or five—man and one—woman if you consider Terry Jones) team is about to be transformed into a load of old digits.

Will we get to see the infamous Parrot Sketch, Nudge Nudge Wink Wink Say No More by Messrs (from left to right) Cleese, Gilliam, Jones, Chapman, Palin and Idle on our Spectrum screens before Christmas? Probably . not, but there's always the TV re—run to keep you occupied until then.

'I never wanted to be a computer game, you know. I wanted to be a LUMBERJACK!' 'Err, 'xcuse me, but that's irrelevant, isn't it?'

CRIPES! IT'S THE 'TRONIC T-SHIRT!

(Turns into camera, nods head, pushes fringe back) 'Hello, Selina Snot from The Clothes Show here (sweet smile at camera, showing Tippex-white teeth)! If you're wondering what to strut your (assume cheeky grin, lower voice and titter slightly) funky stuff in (close moist red lips, open, adopt normal voice) — here's the answer, it's the new Mastertronic t-shirt!

(Attempt to sound informed)
'This innovative new design, featuring the bravado style of 2000 AD artist Jamie Hewlett, encapsulates the modernist games player's phrase (open eyes wide to reveal sparkle, adopts bemused tone) 'Well
'Ard!'.

'Available from all reputable software stores the t-shirt is available In large, and extra large, for £4.99. (More smile, help-the-consumer voice)
Alternatively it can be ordered direct from Mastertronic at 2 Vernon's Yard, 119 Portobello Road, London, W11 2DX. Until next time, goodnight.' (Turns away from camera to face Great Wall of China/sunset on Jamican beach/any exoctic location from the BBC photo library).

10 — 10! — 'TRONIC T-SHIRTS MUST BE WON!!!: Yes, CRASH has 10 — 10! — t-shirts to give away! To win one, just tell us the name of three strips from 2000 AD. Entries to T-SHIRT COMPO, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 1DB. Answers by 24 August please

ATTENTION

NEC PC ENGINE ANNOUNCEMENT.

NEC Corporation, NEC Home Electronics Ltd, and NEC (UK) Ltd (collectively 'NEC' hereinafter) have recently become aware that the PC ENGINE is being offered for sale in the United Kingdom. NEC believe that it is important that UK consumers should be aware of the following information.

- The PC ENGINE is a product manufactured by NEC Home Electronics Ltd for use with the NTSC transmission system.
   It is not compatible with the UK PAL transmission system nor any other non NTSC transmission system. For this reason, NEC Corporation does not market the PC ENGINE in the UK or in any other EEC countries.
- 2. There are no authorised distributors of the PC ENGINE in the United Kingdom at present.

Therefore, if you are offered a PC ENGINE which is said to be compatible with the PAL system or any transmission system other than NTSC, you should be aware that it will have been modified by a third party.

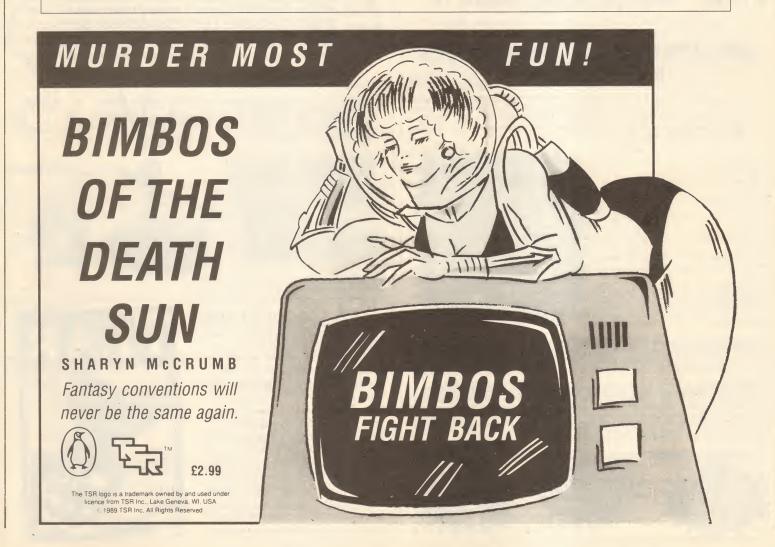

This modification is made without NEC's permission or approval.

3. In the event that a defect should arise in any modified PC ENGINE you must contact the dealer from whom you purchased the product. NEC cannot be held responsible for any defects in any modified PC ENGINE nor be involved in any disputes between purchasers and sellers of such products. In particular, NEC (UK) Ltd cannot respond to service calls in respect of any modified PC ENGINE.

Please note that the guarantee provided with each PC ENGINE sold in Japan by NEC Home Electronics Ltd extends only to the use of the unmodified PC ENGINE in Japan and therefore NEC cannot assist you if you purchase a modified PC ENGINE in the UK. Any other guarantee provided with a PC ENGINE in the UK is not an NEC guarantee. Finally, any modified PC ENGINE's sent to NEC (UK) Ltd for servicing will be returned to the sender.

HEWSON HAVE THE COMPILATIONS!

And what a sad disease it is. The symptoms are: getting all the most recent fab Hewson games (say, for example, Nebulus, Firelord, RanaRama, Netherworld, Impossaball, and Zynaps) and slamming them all into one pack. The disease has spread to further extremes: all six games are being offered for the one price of £12.99 on cassette!

From the operating theatre, where doctors are trying to surgically remove the compilation, Hewson said, 'The pack is called Heatwave and is released now!'

A psychologist comments: 'Blimey! Hewson are stark raving bonkers!'

Jeepers! Hullo everyone, I'm Konix's fab new joystick — the Megablaster! I waggle to the left! I waggle to the right! I waggle up! I waggle down! And have two fire buttons! And all operated through microswitches. At £8.99 I believe I'm the cheapest joystick of my type ever! Byeeeeeee!

FEAR, the horror mag gets it monthly!

With all the horror and fantasy licensed games around, like Indy, Batman, Nightbreed, Nightmare On Elm St., etc., you'll flip when you hear FEAR, the best horror/science fiction/fantasy magazine around, has gone monthly! And — and! — has dropped a whole quid from its cover-price, knocking it down to £1.50. That means there will be more brilliant fiction! More super interviews! Big film secrets revealed! And so much more, as they say. If you've known no fear get a taste for it now!

Who are these buffoons? Are they loony sun-seakers? Are they barmpots getting a sun tan? Yes! Because these three are just part of the CRASH team on their summer hols. Oooh, look there's Richard 'yibble' Eddy! CRASH's very own sexy production foxtress Jackie Morris! And if I'm not mistaken it's Ad seller extraordinaire, Lee Watkins! Look at their bodies!!!

Look at their legs!!! Wooo! Sick bags

Do you have any legs? If so, there's a prize for the best (or worst) pair sent to us (Er, photographs only please -Ed) Send piccies to KNOB-BLY KNEES AT THE SEASIDE, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8

POWERPLAY DREAM JOYSTICK

A huge amount of entries flooded in for the design-a-joystick compo. The winners have already had their day out with PowerPlay at the joystick factory and an afternoon at Alton Towers, piccies next issue. The good news is that PowerPlay will be releasing three new joysticks (based on standard models) as a result of the compo, and you'll be able to buy them through Aggie's mail order emporium very soon. Additionally, the PowerPlay engineers and designers are looking at the possibilty of turning some of the more 'strange' joystick designs into reality. We'll keep you informed!

Winner of the day out was Peter Young, OL3 5EG who took along Russell Smith, Sheffield. The five runners-up who will receive a crystal joystick are Pete Cassidy, PA16 9ED; Chris Timmins, MK43 7PE; Eamon Congerton, MK6

4HX; John Chapman, Ware; Ben Bugh, HR1 1PP.

PREVIEW

Oi! You'll never take me alive, Copper! 'Over 'ere sonny. You have been charged with printing piccies of games what are top secret. How do you plead?' Bonkers m'lud! 'Richard Eddy, you 'ave been sentenced to three pages of Previews.' Oh no, not that m'lud!

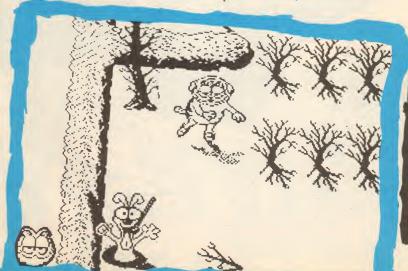

Mercy!!! 'Take 'im away Constable'. Screeeam!!!

back, and this time Garfield is the Ski Animal!!!! Garfield has fallen asleep in front of Jon's ice box (after scoffing all the food inside) and is heavily involved in a midsupper night's dream.

In deep cat-nap he dreams of the alps of Northern Italy, which naturally, reminds him of Lasagne! And on the other side of the alps is Switzerland and all the yummy choccxies.

Not only that, but the ginger nut has spotted the Chicken that lays the Choccy Egg! The loon! There's four different games all packed into one hairy adventure and they go like this ... (but not necessarily in this order!)

SKI ANIMAL!

On the slopes of the Italian alps Garfield hurls his fat carcass down the slalom course - and with his weight there's no stopping him! Avoid the tree stumps and other hazardous objects and he'll be okay! For bonus points jump the ski ramps and snatch food from the spectators' hampers!
Trouble isn't far behind... Zoooom!

Here's comes Odie, the World's dumbest dog, haphazardly sliding down the course on a dustbin lid, also trying to nab food! Get it before he does or you'll spoil Garfield's dream and wake him up.

LASAGNE AHOY!

Jumping the last ski ramp sends Garfield hurtling through the roof of an Italian Lasagne factory! The feline's favorite place. Eat as much Lasagne as possible and you're onto a winner. After scoffing your fill it must be time for dessert!

THE CHOCCY FACTORY

Inside the Swiss choccy factory lies the fabled Chicken Who Lays The Choccy Eggs. With his own intentions at heart Garfield has to direct the flow of the chocolate pipes to reach the Chicken. Once the choccy is flooding into the chicken all Garfield has to do is lie underneath, open his mouth and wait for the laying to begin! Munch, munch! (Sounds a wee bit disgusting to us...).

ICE SKATING

Calamity strikes as the chicken flies the coop and heads off across the nearest frozen pond. Luckily he's left chocolate chicken footprints on the ice. Garfield, equipped with skates, gives chase around the pond, with barriers of snow turning it into a maze. Follow all the prints and you've found the chicken!

RROR, MIRROR ON

Good news for fantasy fans, fabulous fantasy author Joe Dever's latest novel, Lone Wolf: The Mirror Of Death, is soon to be available on the Speccy from Audiogenic! And not only is Joe Dever a great writer, but he also knows how to invent lots of strange place names like Kazan-Gor, a towering fortress, wherein lies Dhazag-Oud, the mirror of death! Bizarre isn't it?!

The action for this combat game is set in Kazan-Gor's labyrinthian tower and you, sword in hand, as Lone Wolf. The quest about to begin is the search for the Lorestone, a Kai gem of power which is currently hidden in Kazan-Gor. Lone Wolf must find it, because he is the last Kai Master, and his destiny decrees he must avenge the deaths of the Kai Lords, his ancestors..etc, etc fantasy, blah, ancient lore, etc.

But, the tower is guarded by a fearful adversary! You!!! Eh? Yes — it's all this Mirror Of Death's doing. You see, when you enter the Tower in search of the Lorestone, the Mirror Of Death creates it's own defender — a complete mirror image of you! And the image has one purpose — to defeat its origi-Audiogenic are promising a superb action packed arcade game. Playing Lone Wolf, you're armed with a sword and four chosen Kai skills. Battle your way up the tower to the stronghold of Dezan Groez, fighting fire-spitting gar-goyles, jumping death pits, and defeat the Mirror's warrior!

It all sounds terribly exciting, and the graphics look rather swell and, basically, we just can't wait to play it for real!!

Lone Wolf — The Mirror Of Death is released any time now and costs £9.95 on cassette and £14.95 on disk. The book from which the game is taken is out in Beaver Books (£2.50, paperback), and is a jolly good read!

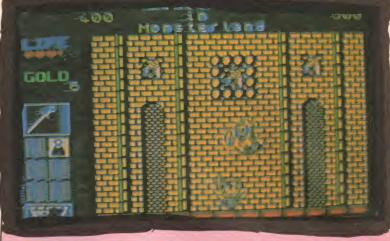

GAZZA'S SUPER SOCCER

Wooooar!!! It's Gazza!!!! Yaaaa! The footy sensation of this year's season is coming back soon in top form with a super new soccer simulator from the newly formed Empire group.

The Gazza in question is Tottenham Hotspur/England mid-fielder Paul Gascoigne, and he's currently helping out with the initial design of the game, to appear on the Speccy this winter. Empire promise Gazza's Super Soccer will be the most realistic footy game around. It features an 11 man team playing in hectic Sunday, League or International matches. Control of the ball sounds good to — you can bend it round the goalie (ouch!), squeeze it between the legs of an opposing player (double ouch!), or head it into the corner of the goal, amongst many other movements.

With 40-50 frames of animation making up each player and super smooth scrolling it could be a winner!

TEENAGE ROMANCE IN MONSTERLAND

Remember WonderBoy? That fine game of yesteryear starring a nappyclad youngster bounding and leaping through Wonderland? Course you do! And, after being potty trained, he's back!

Wonderboy has reached that stage where he's 'getting interested' in girlies. And as luck would have it, a gorgeous damsel has been captured and held prisoner in Mosterland!! Woo! Realising he's in with a good chance of a snog if she's rescued, he trots after her into Monsterland where all manner of beasties lurk.

A ferocious fire-breathing dragon is the main problem, and Wonderboy's ultimate aim is to bop him off. But before that there's plenty of platform leaping action to contend with as Wonderboy searches the land, battling with snakes, vampire bats, jellyfish, mudmen and other vile creatures as he goes. And, just like the arcade game, everything's displayed in superb cartoon graphics.

Super Wonderboy features 11 levels, ten different weapons, and heaps of treasure to collect; including winged booties for flying, and shields and armour for protection. All this and more from Activision, programmed by Rob Hylands of Images Design, in September for £9.99.

AFTER-SHAVE BREATHING DRAGONS!

Ooooh! Dragon Spirit will really bring out the beast in you! While sounding like some tacky aftershave, it's really another coin-op conversion appearing soon courtesy of Tengen! Yippeee! And it looks like being a mean, lean firebreathing machine!

Having been transformed into a blue dragon your job is to fly over a mythical prehistoric land searching for Zawell, an ugly serpent demon. The landscape scrolls vertically downwards as Zawells' band of dragons and beasts fly at you head-on, breathing fire and lobbing missiles in your direction.

Though you have lethal ground and air attack capabilities it's just not enough to survive the barrage of attackers. But help is at hand in the form of dragon eggs which give you an extra head, and increase your fire-breathing furnace to make you almost unstoppable! Watch out for the nine mega-monsters which guard the exits of each level — they're tough, but you have the Dragon Sprit (an exquisite new parfum pour l'homme from Yves Saint Tengen)!

DO—NUT COPS OF TENGEN CITY

by

Blimey! Tengen, Domark's coin-op label, is pumping out conversions like nobody's business! And here's another brill offering — it's APB, the crazy American cops 'n' robbers game. Jump in your patrol car and, as Officer Bob, hurtle up and down the streets giving chase to the APB criminal of the day. It could be Sid Sniper, Freddy Freak (Such ordinary names don't you think?) or the entire heavy mob!!

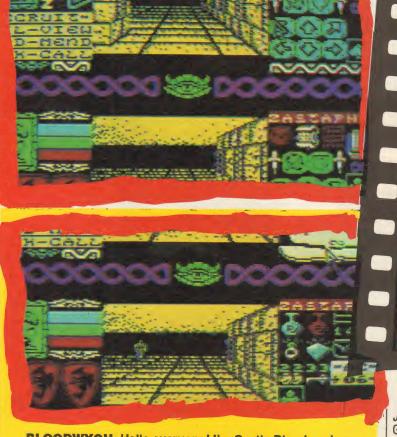

As well as high speed criminal chases there's all the normal duty stuff to contend with, like nabbing litter-louts, drunks and hitchhikers. But don't muck up your shiny new patrol car or there'll be hell to pay when the Captain gets to you!

To help you out, the Do-nut (sic) Stand provides extra time (Strange, I thought they provided do-nuts! -Ed), and the Speed Shop bumps up the power of your car by adding extra graphics, APB weaponry and go-faster stripes! If the Speccy version is up to the standard of never like this!

the coin-op with its amazing cartoon graphics, APB is going to be a real corker! But Cagney and Lacey was never like this!

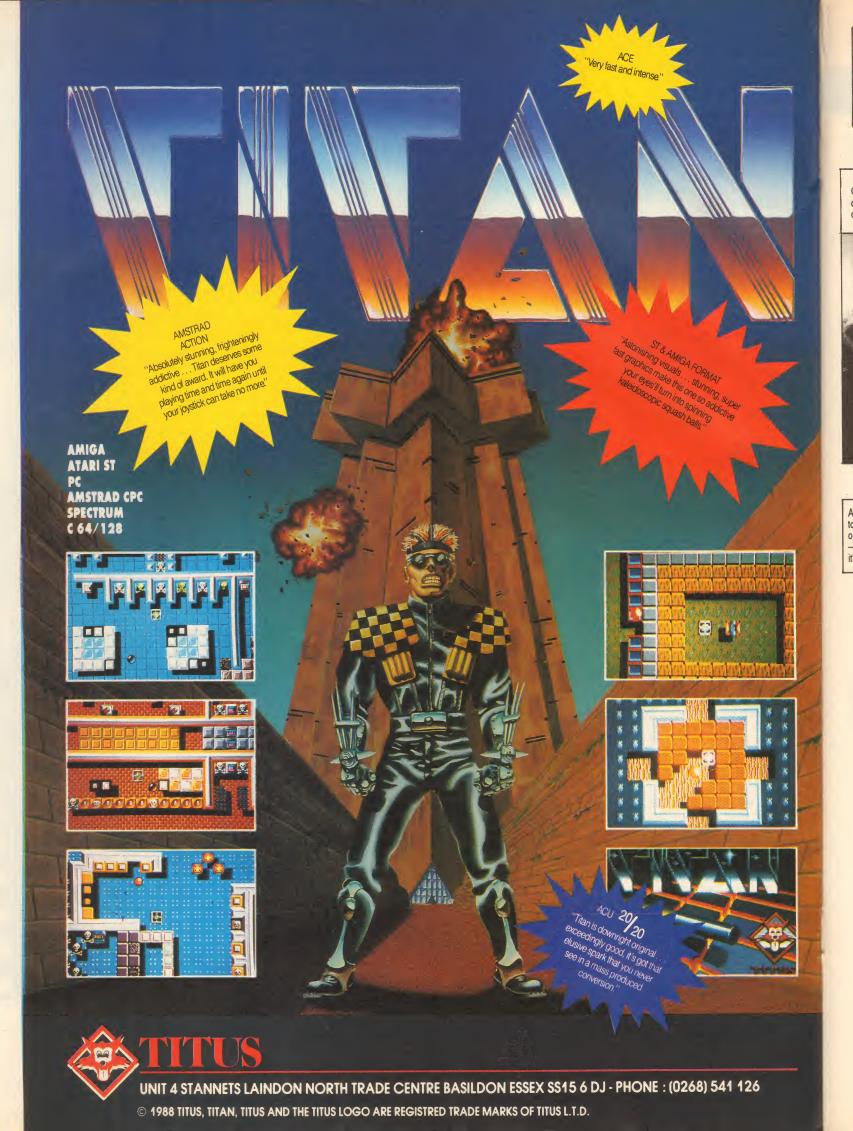

BLOODWYCH: Helio everyone! I'm Castle Bloodwych, a dark and dingy fortress with lots of 'spook' goings on inside me! All the action and adventure that I experience is soon to be related on your Speccy courtesy of Image Works. A two-player game no less! Lots of fantasy, lots of role-play and heaps of killing. Just my cup of tea. Byeee!

Also appearing next issue is Indiana Jones And The Last Crusade from US Gold. Indy missed this issue's deadline by just two days!!!! Arrrgh!!! Never mind, here's three more screens for you to feast your eyes on, and we'll have a full and proper review next month.

CRASH AUGUST ■ 29

COMPETITION

Win Indy's coat!!! Be tough just like him!!! And then save the world!!!

The compo Indy — we're going to give away your jacket!!!

Awww, but dad... I like this jacket. I'm not giving it away!

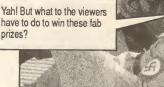

Alright son. I'll get Lucasfilm to make the CRASH readers one just like it, with Lambskin — same as yours!!! Though it'll cost $200!!! going to give away 15 — 15!!!

— Indy goodie bags too!
Filled to the brim with a film poster, an Indy sweatshirt, a copy of the brill US Gold Indiana Jones game and a nove!!!! And one to the winner of course!

Well, there's three piccies of me on this page, and each one has been changed so I look a complete jerk! Tell me what the CRASH art dept. have done to me on each one!!

Answers on a postcard, or a sealed envelope, to: GIMME THAT INDIANA JONES JACKET COMPO, CRASH TOWERS, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 1DB. Entries to arrive at the Towers by August 24 and normal compo rules apply. Hey, Dad get off me jacket!!!

Good thinking, Dad! And we can put a special Indy designer logo inside. Gee! Just think it'll be the only one ever made!!!!

...AND HE'S GOT 'EM TAPED!

Oh, I can't be doing with this heat! Ludlow has never been so hot, it's probably something to do with this ozone layer thingy, so stop using CFCs everyone. I wouldn't mind all the sunny weather, but I don't get a tan, I just go all red and blotchy, but that's life I suppose (no I won't do any Esther Rantzen jokes). If you aren't keen on the sun then you can stay indoors and read this month's corruscating tips. I've got some juicy POKEs on the cover cassette all ready to run, mouth watering tips on Navy Moves and Times Of Lore, plus a succulent map of Dizzy — The Crash Edition and fun, fun, fun!

I'm still scouring the local rags for the perfect car, but it's almost impossible to find one in my price range (about £10!). So if any of you know where I can get a Porsche 944 for a couple of quid, let me know! Never mind, I wouldn't have any time to drive it anyway, what with all these reviews, tips and college!

TIMES OF LORE

Fantastic, a complete solution to this enchanting game.
Perhaps Skippy and me can complete it now, and stop pulling our hair out (you should see Skippy bald, ha!). The life saver behind this masterpiece is Andy Gledhill of Kings Lynn, and I'm going to give him £40 of software for his efforts.

Before you start, it's important not to kill any of the town and village people, as this makes it impossible to complete your quest. You begin upstairs in the inn at Eralan. Go downstairs and talk to the prior, who tells you about the Fortelling Stones. Answer yes to his question, then talk to everybody in the inn for more information.

Leaving the inn, follow the path to the right and turn north into the Dark Forest. Follow the path, killing anything that gets in your way. Pick up any objects dropped by the orcs and the archers. Uses of objects are as follows: Red Scroll kills enemy in immediate vicinity, Blue Scroll paralyses enemy in vicinity, Green and Blue Potions restore your stamina.

On the path you will come to a hut. Look around here for the woodsman. Talk to him, and he,ll tell you the way to the orcs' camp where the stones are. Follow the path until you come to the pond. Go north from here and follow the winding path through the woods to the orcs' camp in a clearing. Kill the orc in the middle of the camp and pick up the stones.

Now go back the way you came to the inn at Eralan. Give the prior the stones, he'll thankfully tell you to visit the Regent.

Enter the castle at Eralan to see the Regent Darial, and agree to recover the Tablet Of Truth from Ganestor. Go south to Lankwell first. Buy the magic axe from the serf, this will allow you to kill from a distance, saving a lot of stamina.

Now go east across the desert to Ganestor. If you ask questions around the town, you'll find out the location of a secret tunnel into the castle there. Visit the inn and go downstairs behind the bar, enter the room with the small red square on the wall. Walk into the square to reveal the stairs to the castle.

Climb to the next floor, avoiding all the guards, and find the room in the centre. Kill the guard from a distance with the axe, then go left into another room, where you'll find the Tablet Of Truth. Pick the tablet up, and it will speak; ask it about the High King, and it will tell you the King was killed by an assassin, who can be found in Lankwell. Leave the tablet and return to the secret tunnel.

Now go back to the inn at Lankwell. Find the thug and ask him about the assassin, you'll discover he's called the Black Asp. Go to the house furthest west, and the serf there will tell you where to find the assassin. Go south from Lankwell across the bridge to the Black Asp's house. Ask him about the High King, and he'll tell you Darial the Regent hired him to kill him. He'll give you a confession to take to the Steward Heidric at Ganestor.

Go to Ganestor, into the castle again via the tunnel and up to the top floor avoiding all the guards to find the steward. Give him the confession and he'll tell you of a spy in Ganestor and ask you to find him. Go outside and wait by the castle doors until nightfall. A guard should appear and walk into the castle, follow him. When questioned the guard will reveal himself to be the spy. Kill him and pick up the note, take the note to Heidric the steward as proof of the spy's death.\

Now the steward will tell you his son was kidnapped in Hampton. Go to Hampton and talk to the Duke to find the kidnappers. Find the castle east of Hampton, kill the kidnappers and release the steward's son. Here you'll also find the Green Scroll which can transport you anywhere in the kingdom. The steward's son will tell you to visit the Archmage across a bridge north of the Enchanted Forest.

The Archmage wants you to kill the Liche in the desert before he tells you how to get the medallion. So go to the inn directly south of the Enchanted Forest and speak to the Stargazer, who reveals that to kill a Liche you must use holy water from Friar Kaine. Travel to Rhyder and buy some from the friar, then go to the middle of the desert and find the ruins.

In the ruins a secret door that leads underground. Here you have to operate a set of floor pressure pads to open doors in the complex. Trial and error should eventually lead you to the Liche. Use the holy water to kill the Liche and pick up the RED potion. Now return to the Archmage.

He tells you that you that the evil clerics at the Temple Of Angor have got the medallion, and to get into Angor you'll need the Charm from the volcano. To get the Charm, go to the volcano where you find another underground complex. Operate another set of pressure pads and you should find the Charm.

Go to the Temple Of Angor and use the Charm to open the door. Go to the top floor and the room with the single bed. Go to the bed and pick up the Flask. Now find the abbot and kill him using the flask before he drains away all your stamina. Pick up the medallion, and you have completed the game!

General Tips

Stay at inns at regular intervals to replenish your stamina.

Other objects of use are: Magic Boots from a serf in Treela, which allow you to run instead of walk, and a Magic Ring found if you kill the giant east of Rhyder. This ring will allow you to become invisible for a short period of time, which is useful to avoid the guards in the castle of Ganestor.

STORMLORD

At last! I hear you all cry. It's the last level of the solution to Hewson's fantastic game, Stormlord. Well, you certainly can't say I've spoilt the game for you. I got you through the first two levels, so you should have completed it yourself by now. In that case I won't print the last bit. No, only joking, here it is.

Level 3

and go right through knights. Get shoes. Go left through knights. Go up and use spring board. Go left and jump over high wall. Swap shoes for key in mid air. Open chamber door and get fairy. Use spring board. Collapse chamber roof by standing on it. Get fairy. Go right through flies and open chamber door. Get fairy. Go left and get shoes. Go right and jump up into high chamber. Get fairy. Use spring board. Get fairy. Use spring board. Get honey pot. Go right through dragons. Divert swarm and get final fairy.

NAVY MOVES

I'm sure the Navy does move now and again, and Nicholas Shute certainly did when he was compiling these tips for the new Dynamic game to hit, no sorry, gently tap (no violence in this mag) your Spectrum.

Part 1

Mines: make sure the rear end of your dinghy lands just in front of the mine you're jumping. Jet Skiers: keep firing to the front to rid yourself of frontal attacks, when one comes from behind quickly swivel your gun round. After jumping some mines, keep shooting to the front as they try to jump you.

Sharks: most of the sharks come from the front, so always keep firing forwards. Make sure you do not touch a shark!

Humans: Keep firing to the front . and dodge their harpoons when they approach from the rear. If they attack from the top, move yourself down, and vice versa. Octopuses: Keep your hand on fire until both missiles (top and bottom of your craft) fire up, then let them rip. Do this approximately six times.

Sea Monster: Get as far as you can to the right and beam up the missles. Learn the patterns of the sea monster. You can't dive here.

Submarine: Enter at the far right of the submarine, where the flat part is.

Part 2

MULTIFACE MATTERS

I can't remember the last time I printed some of those delicacies we call Multiface POKEs. So here is a small selection from David Foskett of Luton. I know many of you haven't got the foggiest idea how to put these into your computer. I have had tales of you typing them in, then resetting and loading the game (no laughs please). What you do, is get yourself a Multiface or similar Spectrum add- on and follow the instructions to enter a POKE included with the contraption. Easy.

What a nice day it is for going down to your local supermarket and shouting, 'Cheat Mode Motel is the best thing since sliced bread', then buying a packet of dried peas! Well, that's only if you're a great fan of the Mode, as we like to call it. Oh, and watch out for the silliness...

FORGOTTEN WORLDS

Towards the end of level one are a set of barriers. Shoot them a few times, then go into the top one. If you do this and then travel on to the end of level god, you will find that he does not shoot anything at you. (In the phone box: Steve Towley)

STORMLORD

Type in 'BRING ON THE GIRLS' on the control selection screen. The game will pause a while. Press a number from 1 to 4 for the level you want to go to. (On the stairs (these are getting silly): Jeremy Gadd)

RAMBO 3

On level one walk to the far left of the screen (so you are just on the screen), then walk up towards the wall. If you do it right you should be able to walk through it! (Garage: Richard Peel)

RAMBO 3 (again!)

When you are about to load the first level, hold down the keys 'QWERT', then load in the first level. When playing the game hold down 'QWERT' again, and you'll be able to load in levels 2 and 3. (Single room (boring!):

THE RUNNING MAN

If your power is low then kick the dogs, they will give you more to carry on and give those stalkers what for. (At reception: Mark Lindsey)

More answers to your requests for tips and POKEs on older games this month. I've had James Roberts (no relation!) on the phone asking for a POKE on one of his favourite games, Cookie, that ancient but still playable classic from Ultimate. So here it is, along with a small cheat to help those stuck on the recently rereleased Winter

Here is what to type in for infinite

And here's the little cheat on Winter Games:

On the biathlon section, instead of smashing your keyboard up by quickly pressing left and right, just hold down the right key and you should zoom up the hills.

RUN THE GAUNTI

For those of you who haven't mastered all the vehicles in this brilliant game, here are Philip Ray's explanations of the good and bad points of some of them. Don't forget, you can also sneak through between the islands at the tops of most water courses, this saves time.

Speedboat — The fastest water vehicle. If you hit a boat/island/flag you'll spin away heavily. As it's a thin vehicle, it's possible to sneak by the side of other boats.

Jet-ski - This is a very manoeuvrable vehicle, but the explosions make it spin away. Try to keep clear of the other jet-skis, as there isn't much space to overtake.

Inflatable - This is a bit like the speedboat but not as fast. If you are hit by an explosion, keep pressing down the accelerate button, you should carry on going in the same direction.

Hover Craft — This is very slightly sluggish, and it moves fastest on the diagonals. Try to anticipate when corners are coming up, and turn the craft before you get there. That way, the drift on the hover craft will steer you around the corner.

Buggy — Not as fast as the Meteor (78 mph), but easier to handle. As with all road vehicles, if you don't go over a jump straight on you'll spin off and probably have to attempt the jump again.

TASKFORCE

Who still thinks this game looks like Cybernoid 2 then? You've got to admit there is a likeness! Well here are some tips on this enjoyable budget release from Matthew Yeates of Worthing.

ENEMIES Silos

To destroy the silo use bouncing bombs, missiles, time bombs or heat seekers.

Skull

These cannot be destroyed, but avoid their bullets!

Water

Don't sit on it, as you will lose a

Guns

Indestructible, but use shield to avoid bullets.

Fighters • Shoot with normal bullets

Special Pods

Pick up to receive orbiting shield pods.

Pick up for extra fuel.

Pick up for extra points.

Pick up to replenish your special weapons.

GHOSTBUSTE

Who ya goin ta call? Nicko! Well that's how the song should go, if you ask me. I haven't printed anything on the ghostbusting game yet, that's probably because I get so sick of The Real Ghostbusters at home, with my brother almost fainting if you even mention the word ghost! Anyway, here are some tips on each level from Lawrence Pycock of Coxheath in Kent.

Level 1

Take the left way, it's easier.

 When lots of nasties appear in front of you, turn around and go back so they are out of screen. Now go back to where they were,

and they will have disappeared!

The best thing to do with the end of level ghoul is fire at him before he comes into range. He will then walk into the beam. When he starts firing at you, move backwards and repeat the process until he's destroyed.

 Don't use the two player option as the game becomes harder.

Laval 3

 Kill all the worms. One of them holds slimer, and you need him to help kill the bats.

 With the end of level baddie, make sure his eye is going diagonally, then fire at him loads, and bingo!

 From the beginning take the first three bridges on the left, then swap over and take the two on

Have you ever been playing a game with your Multiface plugged in and thought to yourself, 'Wouldn't it be grand, if I could put infinite twigglets into this game and complete it like a piece of cake?'. I know i have, the trouble is you can never remember where you saw a particular POKE. But now there is a booklet with lots of POKEs listed in alphabetical order to buy from... Octogram, 1 Druid Woods, Stoke Bishop, Bristol, BS9 1SX. It has POKEs for Academy right through to Zzoom. All you have to do for a copy is write to the above address enclosing your name, address and a cheque or postal order for £3.99 including post and packing made payable to 'Octogram'. Problem solved.

the right. If the end of level baddie is getting too vicious, go down the ladder on the left, and back up to calm him down.

 Most of the mummies are in their coffins, so watch out.

 If you come to an area with loads of baddies, do the trick explained on level 1.

 You can't shoot the baddies in the lake.

 Position yourself out of range of the claws and take them out one at a time.

 The eye thingies (technical term) hatch into midget birds.

Level 7

Move quickly to a position where you can get all the spooks.

 Mind the blaster things in the walls.

 Move slowly when not blasting ghosties.

That's all folks!

REPTON

Here's a little tip from John Davey and his friend Terry for that classic game Repton 1. The situation below crops up in later levels, and as it would be hard to explain, here are some pictures.

Say you had a situation like this...

What you would do is... Go under the boulder...

Quickly go to one side...

Push the boulder on to the other ledge...

Now collect the diamond...

EASURE ISLAI MAP (not again!)

Oops, a mistake was made way back in Issue 62 on the map of this super game. As you can see from the bit of map below, one coin was missing. There were 29 printed on the map, and unfortunately you need 30 to complete the game (whoops!). So, marked below is where to go to find this extra hidden coin. Thanks to Ross Kobak of Fife in Scotland for pointing it out.

BUFFALO BILL'S EVILD VVEST ERODEO SELOVI

Tynesoft ■ £9.99/£14.99

ee-ha! Ride 'em cowboy! Yes siree, all the thrills and spills of a wild west rodeo moseys on into town courtesy of Buffalo Bill himself. Six events, play them individually or as a series — the choice is yours, out to test your ability to be a rootin' tootin' son of the west.

Try your hand at knife throwing and see your beautiful assistant spiked on the rotating board (whoops!). Pointing the sights at the place you want the knife to land (careful now...), but don't forget that the board turns. If you miss the horse in the paddock laughs at you!

Next comes trick shooting; time to get your pistol out and have a shot at the baddie targets as they rise and fall from the ground. But it's no good getting trigger happy with these targets, you might just shoot the teddy bear out of the hands of an innocent little girl who just happens to be strolling by!

Calf-roping is another wild west favourite; ride your horse to the side of the calf and simply lasso it with the rope. But it's easier said than done, and many a CRASH writer has ended up in the dirt! Bronco riding is really funny to watch but not so amusing when it's you being thrown off a bucking horse!

Steer wrestling is the next event, and this seems impossible; jumping from a galloping horse and clinging to a rampaging steer for dear life cannot be classed under 'fun'! The last stage — the grand finale — is a good stage coach rescue. The hero rides up against a speeding coach, jumps onto its side, climbs up and beats an indian in a fist fight to rescue the fair maiden.

This is all good wild west fun and I am totally addicted. The graphics are excellent, with colourful detailed back MIKE Just when you thought it was safe to forget the sports simulation... Well, it's not really a sports sim I suppose, if only because the idea behind this multiple event challenge is so original. It's great; the events are as difficult as any other multi-eventer (there's three skill levels as well!). The graphics are fine, the sound's very atmospheric on the 128, and the gameplay is wildly addictive. All topped off with marvellous presentation — it's great!

drops, well drawn animated sprites and action just bursting out of every event. There is a good dose of country style tunes and plenty of hoof-trotting effects. Buffalo Bill's Wild West Rodeo Show is a fantastic game whether you play it on your own or with a group of friends.

austerlitz 1805

CCS/Ken Wright ■ £12.95

he Austerlitz conflict took place on December 2 1805 and is regarded as Napoleon's finest hour. In it the self-proclaimed emperor clashed head on with General Kutusov's combined forces of Austrian and Russian troops.

The day ended well for Napoleon in real life, but things aren't the same in computer terms — with play on either the Russian or French side offered at three levels of difficulty, things don't all have to go Napoleon's way.

Austerlitz bears similarity in operation to previous games CCS (such as Napoleon at War and Wellington). Played via the now standard multi-way or amalgamate, providing more manouevrabilty or a more powerful force, depending on the situation. In play of course, Austerlitz is all too familiar, although the challenge is a lot stronger than most of Ken Wright's previous games. The game is very generous with combatants (in keeping with the actual battle) and rarely does a turn go by without some form of mass battle taking place.

Wellington was relatively sedate compared with the very bloody Austerlitz and it is in many ways (game tactics in particular) reminiscent in style to Napoleon at War. With so much more happening on the battlefield the basic challenge of 'kill 'em all' is more pronounced and the game is better. The command system, while easy to utilise, is still a little simple considering the real conflict and as such the game's flexibility is limited. A good recreation though of Napoleon's greatest conflict despite the lack of improvement in its execution.

ROBIN HOGG

Just Who is This Mysterious Robin Hogg Type Person?!
A nation wants to know! Robin, or Little Hoggy as he's known in the Towers (and to a select few at US Gold), is one of these bori..er, intelligent types who can appreciate strategy and simulation software to its best — that's why he reviews them. Robin has had two—two!—years of gruelling experience on TGM and now ZZAP, writing this kinda stuff. He recieves no fan mail. Aw.

smooth scrolling warzone map, orders are handed down to individual infantry, artillery, cavalry and reserves who move in specified form (either Line, Column or Square). This is a realistic and standard method of movement (if a little dated) but much of the game is not that new in ideas; although the subject matter is more extensive than Wellington.

es, it's a whole new concept in computer gaming! Breakout, oops sorry no it's not that at all. Well perhaps just a tad then. The boring little bat at the bottom of the screen has been replaced with a square. There's eight-way scrolling and little icons that do various naughty things to the square (sounds fun so far!).

Surprisingly, you have to knock a metal ball around the map and hope that it knocks away all the breakable blocks in the landscape. If it does you've completed that level. That may seem a bit easy, but the nasties come in on later levels.

There are many nasty icons including teleporters which transport you from one side of the landscape to the other, contact blocks which build themselves into walls when you pass them and the nasty

RICHARD Here's a novel twist on one of our dear old friends, and a playable one too! With heaps of colour splashed around on the large scrolling maps, and not a bit of clash in sight, it makes the whole — and occasionally tricky — game all that much more fun. A few reservations about the lastability: Titan's control method and gameplay cannot really be mastered, remaining heavily a hit-and-miss situation a lot of the time.

System 3 ■ £9.99/£14.99 ritting your teeth with all the determination that made you the last hope for this bluey-green earth, you settle into your sleek starfighter to do battle for the last time against the scavengers and space mutant horrors floating high above the planet, poised on the final destruction of all civilization. All inhabitants of our planet are under a false sense of security thinking there's no threat to our very existence. How wrong they are. The loons!

As the only hero remaining of the once-glorious crack defence fighter pilot team, you take on the grotesque mutant creation set on destroying us. To crush this obscenity you must brave the body defence mechanisms sta inside the creature so that you may obliterate its sustaining organs, and once and for all put a stop this crazed hunger stampeding across the galaxy (ie a bit like like Nick -Ed)

The game's split into parthorizontal and part-vertical scrolling. This adds some variety but doesn't make playing any easier. At the start your ship is armed with just the basic pulse canon, but icons can be shot or death icons which kill. The speed the ball rebounds around the play area gets quicker the longer it's allowed to bounce, till you turn into a mad person trying to catch it (doesn't take much for some people -Skip).

I wouldn't exactly say that this is an original concept. It's more like loads of other games piled into one. The graphics are not that impressive either and the colour schemes get very garish. There's some playability to be had here, though, and you can have fun trying to catch the ball as is goes spinning off in the opposite direction.

If you're after a game that twists the breakout theme then Titan is for you.

Wayhey! Domination! Fnar, fnar! No, get off Nick, it's my turn now, your comment's finished. I don't know, eh? This sort of game has been done so many times before! OK, so it's got pretty good graphics, but that doesn't make a game; there needs to be some element of gameplay in it, and I'm afraid that Dominator is such old hat that all the addictivness has worn off on other games to which it bears such similarity. In its own right, it's a jolly good shoot-'em-up, and if you've spent the last five years locked away in a computerless environment, you might well find this excellent. I'm afraid I didn't though; how about an original idea next time, System 3, coz this one ain't gonna work!

picked up along the way to give auto fire, lasers and even a cheat mode to help you defeat the aliens.

What can I say about Dominator that hasn't been said about every shoot-'emup on the market? The graphics in the game aren't bad but you'll have seen similar ones literally hundreds of times before. There's one thing Dominator has to offer that many other blasting games don't though, animated scenery plus loads of colour, but lots of clash to go with it. Typical.

Puny sound effects and an average tune accompanying the action don't jolly things along at all. Dominator is one of those games you will either love or absolutely hate. If you like shoot-'emups of any shape or form, this may be for you.

High-Steel

Screen 7/ID ■ £9.99/£14.99

es, it's the game of the job that everybody wants to do, building! I used to play with my Lego blocks for hours and now you can do the same sort of thing (without losing that crucial bit to hold the whole thing up) with High Steel from Screen 7.

A crane drops building materials, with food occaisionally, into the construction plant, and from there you pick-up girders and bricks to build floors of a skyscraper to complete each level.

Firstly place a girder on a flat piece of ground and put a brick on top by climbing up the girder. When a row of five girders and bricks are in position you've completed the first levels. The second level requires two floors with strong foundation.

This may seem easy to the unsuspecting reader, but there are hindrances to bugger up your day's work.
Gremlins, mothers, crawlers, spitters, banana skins and a entire host of nasties have been brought to life to knock you down, slip you up and generally knock you about.
All these enemies are cleverly designed. For instance, the gremlins come along and drop eggs on the platform.

Then a mother is sent down from the skies to hatch the egg into a crawler. Luckily the builder can kill the gremlins, mothers and crawlers with his trusty old spanner.

High Steel is a really simple idea but can be infuriatingly difficult to play. Just as a space is cleared to put down a girder the stupid crane goes and puts another brick there and stops you from placing the girder! Arrgghh! The cartoony-style characters are brilliant and are all animated well. It's a pity the colour's limited to just blue and white, but you can't have everything can you?

To round off this very arcade-style game there are ditties and sound FX to complement the non-stop action perfectly. High Steel may get so annoying that you want to throw the computer out of the window, but it's worth it for the arcade addictivness.

This game is sooooo frustrating! Each level is quite challenging (except the first one), so by the time you're really getting on, any loss of life can result in the breakage of joysticks and things! The graphics are fairly poor; there's nothing special to make it attractive, and the sound's fairly simplistic, but there's something about the game design that makes it incredibly compulsive. You have to play it for a while to really get to like it, but once hooked... The presentation is unremarkable, but High Steel definitely has that intangible 'it' that makes playing enjoyable.

ing your path; then there are the fairly obvious Earth Invaders and Ping Pong.

Gilbert is really good fun. I don't like the character (not that I ever watch Saturday morning children's programmes, ahem), but Again Again have made a good job of this one. The tune on the 128K is excellent, and though the five arcade machines are incredibly basic, when combined with the rest of the game, they make a nice diversion; it's quite fun just to hunt around Drill for a machine to play.

Colour is overdone (turn down that contrast control matey!) but the Gilbert animation is quite funny, especially the snotting (who said that?)! The other computer versions of Gilbert were laughable; it's good to see that the Spectrum can still beat the competition!

'm sure we're all well acquainted with the disgusting snotty slimy green (and I mean that literally) alien thingy from Get Fresh and Gilbert's Fridge. Yep, Gilbert's back, and this time it's your computer that gets covered in filthy green and covered in filthy green goo!

The foul alien hero is getting his colleagues on planet
Drill a bit annoyed. He can't stop telling every one how wonderful he is, so when he gets offered a new contract to appear on Earth TV, his not-so-friendly friends nick some essential bits of his space-ship, The Millennium

The game's playable for a while, but for hardened gamesters it won't last long. Younger games players familiar with the Gilbert character will love just exploring the city, so it might be worth buying for them.

THE VOLUE COLLECTION: VOL I

US Gold ■ £12.99/£17.99

ookit this! It's a compilation from US Gold bearing our very own name, and indeed five fab US Gold games therein! The five smashing games were picked by CRASH game players going back to the dawn of time and all are Smashes!! Well, except for 720°, but we reckoned it should have been a Smash after playing it for months! Anyway, this is what you get for your dosh:

BIONIC COMMANDO: Loads of platforms across heaps of levels as you leap and bound through the scenery, bopping off the alien invaders. Equipped with handy telescopic arms you swing from pinacle to pinacle, pulling your way to the exit at the top of each level, and then onto the next. Endless fun, with smart graphics and excellent sound and a veritable mountain of playability.

Quite a fun little game.

720°: Skateboarding action at its very best! Take your 'board into the brilliantly drawn park and its four separate stunt courses to become the champion. Fabulous playability, and enough to keep you playing for months! WINTER GAMES: A compendium of winter sports fea-robots and collecting codes to let you into the main computer to stop the bomb exploding. An all-time great from US software house Epyx, very event and definitely the best of the 'Games' series on the Speccy

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION IF.
The original was naff but this is the bee's knees in action-packed espionage. Run through Elvin Atombender's maze-like tower, destroying addictive with great depth to keep your interest sustained.

SPY HUNTER: This is my favorite game ever on the Speccy! Continuous adrenalin pumping action in car and boat chases up and down colourful landscapes. Incredibly simple to play, but the fun just doesn't stop as the roads get busier, bridges start collapsing, and the enemy cars and boats get more devious! Brilliant!!

It's silly to rate this pack, because it's obviously a CRASH Smash — else why would those games be there?! Miss this compilation and you're as useless as a whoopee cushion in a bakedbean factory!

You control Scooby, running on hind legs, through a huge haunted mansion wherein his chums are being held captive by evil scientists. Scooby's job is to run through each mazelike level, bopping ghosts and other assorted ghoulies to release Velma, Shaggy (gnuk!), Fred and Daphne. When they're safe, Scooby progresses even further to kill off the scientists on the higher levels of the mansion.

Scattered throughout the mansion are the 'oh desirable' Scooby Snacks; when eaten, they bump up Scooby's number of lives by one. Scooby Doo received a CRASH Smash when it was originally reviewed, and we've enjoyed it so much it deserves another!

Once all the areas are cleared, he must return to battle with the remaining gang members, but this time they are tougher, and it's night ardball is simply a billion for one baseball simulation for one ardball is simply a brilliant or two players. If you don't know how baseball plays, well, tough. It's too long to go into all the rules here. Basically, you have a pitcher (who throws the ball), a batter (who hits the ball as far as possible) and an umpire (who makes descisions you probably won't agree with!).

Whether you're batting or pitching, you determine your stroke from a menu of options at the top of the screen, and the ball flies off accordingly. If it flies far enough the batter dashes around the bases of the field to score as many runs as possible. The team with the most runs wins.

The presentation of Hardball is wonderful, and graphics are neat throughout (especially on the pitching scene). Though a little tricky to begin with, Hardball is worth perservering with as it's a decent and realistic simulation.

RAMBO

Overall

The Hit Squad ■ £2.99 (rerelease)

or, we remember this from many a play, and it's still pretty hot, even though not really up to the standards of some of today's software. It's set in the Vietnamese jungle, and Rambo is on a mission to photograph the plight of American prisoners of war. But having found them, will his conscience let him walk away? Silly question!

Armed with just a knife and bombs to begin with, he decides to rescue Colonal Trautman and hi-jack a helicopter to free his buddies. Rambo roams through one main landscape killing enemies and rescuing his mates, first on foot, then in an army chopper.

Slightly outdated by today's standards are the graphics mainly black, with prison camps, helicopters and little men all recognisable and coloured, but with clash problems. The sound Ocean packed into this game takes you back in time: a brilliant tune (for a 48K machine anyway) on the title screen and plenty of gun effects to keep your ears buzzing as you play. Rambo— First Blood Part Two, to give it it's full name, is fun, and in our opinion beats the new Rambo 3 for playability. At this price you should buy it.

By the power of Greyskull, I have the power! So Heman says, but can we take his word for it? He must fight nasty people and collect eight chords in five game sections. Chords are found in the streets, others can only be obtained by splattering Skeletor's hit men. He-Man has brought along two of his pals to help him in his mission, Teela and Gwildor. He-Man may be the master of the universe but he definitely isn't master of the computer game. This is bad with a capital B and another of those boring Gauntlet variants which cropped up so much in the past. He-Man is a tiny character, mostly mid-screen, and a not very impressive one at that. The graphics do slightly improve on some levels, but not enough to make you shout it from the roof tops! The tune doesn't resemble the cartoon series at all. The tasks and plot being exactly the same each load, does not help the lastability factor.

JACK THE NIPPER

Kixx ■ £2.99 (rerelease)

Jack The Nipper! This is the first of the series, the second being Coconut Capers, and one of the better full price games on the Spectrum in 1986. It hasn't lost any playability in the time, and for people who haven't played it, the puzzles will bring hours of fun.

Jack is a naughty little boy who likes nothing better than to pop around the corner to the local police station and cause a riot by shooting his pea shooter at the policemen and tooting his horn at the station cat. The object of the game is to be as naughty as possible (shouldn't be hard for most of you!).

Various objects can be picked up around the town and have drastic effects when dropped in certain places or thrown at something. A naughtyometer, along the bottom of the screen, measures how bad Jack has been. Reach 100%,and the game is complete.

All sprites in Jack The Nipper are cartoon-style, so the game is just like walking into your favourite comic. The main play area is monochrome of várying hues on each screen, plus the bonus of posters, lights, etc. around the town in glorious technicolour!

The way the game has been put together is excellent, with your nappy- rash counter going up whenever you touch a goody goody, and one of the little Jacks at the bottom of the screen being spanked when the rash is on full. Jack The Nipper is a fantastic game, and even on rerelease deserves a Smash rating.

ENDURO RACER

£2.99 The Hit Squad (rerelease)

This one's ancient, but it's still a contender for the best Spectrum race game ever.

As I remember, it was the first racer to use the hill technique, and the jumps have never been repeated successfully since. Rev that bike and take it through all the levels, over dusty mountain tracks, tarmac courses and desert trails. You have to complete each track within the set time limit to progress on to the next level.

Enduro Racer isn't the easiest of biking games, I still find it difficult to get past the third level (but that says more about my game playing skill, I suspect!). Gameplay retains a big challenge throughout — and still looks and plays well after all these years, which can't be bad! Great fun, graphically impressive and varied; well worth buying, especially on budget.

ENCORE!!

ummer sun is a wonderful thing isn't It? And what could possibly be nicer than trotting off to the beach with Encore's resident 'sauce-pot' Gill Blrch? But calamity strikes! Gill simply has nothing suitable for lounging about in the sun!

It's a bloomin' shame! Because, not only is she worthy of being a Sunday Sport Stunna, but she's absolutely loaded with dosh!!! And that means being bought ice-creams and iollies all day by the foxtress.

'Tell you what I'll do, me lovies,' says the gorgeous pouting one, 'I'll give away five — five!! — Encore summer bumper packs and ten — ten!! — t-shirts to whoever can design me a fab summer t-shirt featuring the Encore logo!'

Brilliant! Yes, you could be one of the five lucky winners of the said bumper bundle, which includes all 18 Encore games ever released. That's (are you ready for this?) Frank Bruno's Boxing, Airwolf, Saboteur, Battleships, BombJack, Combat Lynx, Commando, Batty, Turbo Esprit, 1942, Grand National, Roller Coaster, Kokotoni Wilf, BombJack II, 3DC, Scooby Doo, Blue Thunder and Deep Strike!!!! All five winners also receive an Encore t-shirt, and there's another five t-shirts for runners-up!

Send your t-shirt designs on an A3, or smaller, plece of paper to:

SLIGHTGUN PACKS MUST BE WON

Fab prizes are just a phone call away in the Hotline Compo!

Now you can blast the aliens away for real! No need to muck about with all this going-up-in-aspace-shuttle lark, simply plug in the new Sinclair Magnum lightgun, point it at the screen and blast most of the universe to pieces.

If you've read the Magnum Force feature on page 12, you'll know that the gun is a nifty piece of equipment. But think how much better it would be if you didn't have to splash out £30 for a gun pack! Well, now you don't have to, because we have five - five!! - Magnums to give away on the HOTLINE PHONE-IN quiz!!

The pack comes complete with the Magnum gun and six games - Operation Wolf, Rookie. Missile Ground Zero, Solar Invasion, Bullseye and Robot Attack - all of which are played using the gun. A right blasting treat and no mistake, missus!

Just dial 0898 555 084 for the competition questions, the line also includes details of when this month's games are being released. When you've answered all the questions send your entries to: MAGNUM HOTLINE COMPO, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 1DB to arrive no later than 24 August. The first five correct entries pulled out of the sack on that day will win a Magnum pack each!!

MAGNUM!!

Five light guns and software to be won in the compo, plus this month's releases.

What's happening in the Speccy world, it's the latest and greatest news facility!!

Mr Tips himself brings you up to date with the latest tips!

Calls cost 25p per minute during off-peak time and 38p per minute at all other times. If you don't pay the phone bill ask the person who does! CRASH Hotlines are brought to you by CRASH Ltd and Chatterbox Ltd.

It came from Ludlow, and it's taking over the world!!!

SCREAM WITH TERROR!!!

See four smashing games, a playable demo and pokes given away FREE on the fourth Power tape!!!

ALIEN PLANET INVASION!!

Humanity's only hope is the month's games, the hottest and latest on the Speccy scene! Plus Nicko's world-saving Playing Tips!!

THE EARTH IS DOOMED!!

Only the brilliant free mega-poster can save us now!!!

THERE'S NO STOPPING IT!!

More top prize compos invade the pages, don't miss out!!

YOU'LL END UP AN IN-HUMAN MONSTER IF YOU MISS CRASH 68, ON

COMPETITION RULES The Editor's decision is final in all matters relating to adjudication and while we offer prizes in good faith, believing them to be available, if something untoward happens (like a game that has been offered as a prize being scrapped) we reserve the right to substitute prizes of comparable value. Well do our very beşt to dispatch prizes as soon as possible after the published closing date. Winners' names will appear in a later issue of CRASH. No correspondence can be entered into regarding the competitions (unless we've written to you stating that you have won a prize and it doesn't turn up, in which case drop Viv Vickress a line at the PO Box 10 address.) No person who has any relationship, no matter how remote, to anyone who works for either Newsfield or any of the companies offering prizes may enter one of our competitions.
